Beginning Acrylic Painting with Brynn Carter

Saturday, March 16, 2024

1 – 3 p.m.

Limited to 12 students

$30 class fee (includes $10 non-refundable pre-registration and materials fee)

Overview: For school-aged children through adults. Choose from one of 4-6 different designs and paint your own masterpiece. Designs are simple enough to be completed in two hours and still provide some challenge. You will learn to transfer an image onto the canvas, handle brushes, apply and remove paint, mix colors, and create interesting textures. All skill levels are welcome, and all will be successful.

Instructor: Brynn Carter graduated in 1972 with a B.A. in art and then went on to get a teaching credential. In 1988, she earned her PhD in Educational Foundations from OSU. For most of her career, she was a public-school administrator, and much too busy for serious art. Although she did find time to do crafty things with her children; sewing costumes, creating with papier mâché, and making puppets and dolls. Brynn has authored and illustrated five books for children: Songs for Bears, The Puppet Explained, Fine as Frog's Hair, Where is Jesse? and A Fish Tale. When painting, she usually works with acrylics and likes to do whimsical images and portraits of people and pets. During the pandemic, she entertained herself with colorful paper collage.
